United Way of Greater Portland Childcare Workforce & Entrepreneurship Initiative

Recipient: United Way of Greater Portland

Project Location: Portland, ME

Coburn Gore Land Port of Entry

Recipient: United States General Services Administration (GSA)

Project Location: Coburn Gore, ME

Amount Requested: GSA Estimated Cost to Complete ($93,840,000)

Project Purpose: To provide needed updates to the existing land port of entry at Coburn Gore. The proposed improvements will help modernize the facility to meet today's national security mission, trade and travel volume, and safety threats, including those related to the trafficking of heroin, fentanyl, opioid, and illegal narcotics. A 2018 GSA feasibility study determined the scope of the project, which includes a new facility on an expanded site providing outfitted configured canopies, inspection lanes and booths, a new outbound inspection lane, and a modernized, mission-capable main port building.

In 2019, GSA identified modernizing this facility as the highest priority in the region. The agency has stated that the current facility, which was built in the 1930s, is "significantly antiquated for today's security mission." GSA determined the project cost, which will be spent over several years.
